SAVINGS BANKS.

RESOLUTION—By the Government of India, Department of Finance and Commerce.

READ—

Report by the Comptroller and Auditor General on Savings Banks for the year 1886-87 and annexed statements.

Ordered, that the report and the statements be published in the Gazette of India for general information.

No. 180, dated 30th January 1888.

From—E. GAY, Esq., Comptroller and Auditor General,

To—The Secretary to the Government of India, DEPT. OF FINANCE AND COMMERCE.

I have the honour to submit my report for the year 1886-87 on the Savings Banks established by Government in this country. The report is late this year, as it has been necessary to reconcile the figures in it with the Finance and Revenue Accounts of the year, and this at first presented some difficulty owing to a misunderstanding which has now been removed.

2. There are two descriptions of these Banks, viz., Banks open to the Public and Service Institutions; the former comprise Presidency and Post Office Banks, and the latter State Railway Provident Institutions, Civil Engineers' Provident Fund and Military Banks. The State Railway Provident Institutions are for the non-pensionable employés of the State Railways. The Civil Engineers' Provident Fund is for the officers of the Public Works and Telegraph Departments, and the Military Banks for the non-commissioned officers and soldiers of the European Army; but when these men leave their regiments and go on detached military service, they are permitted under special arrangements to transfer their savings to a Presidency Bank.

3. Nothing special has occurred during the year in connection with these Banks. I enclose the usual statements marked I to VII, the principal facts in which may be summarised as follows:—On the 31st March 1887 there were 6,230 Government Savings Banks in India, and they contained 289,445 accounts, which received from Government Rs19,67,668 as interest and possessed balances aggregating Rs5,79,86,983. In addition to these balances the depositors held Government Promissory Notes, of which those in my custody amounted to Rs3,99,100 and in that of the Accountant General, Bombay, to Rs18,300, making a total of Rs4,17,400. The notes purchased on this account in Madras were withdrawn by the depositors. The following table distributes these figures among the several classes of Banks:—

DESCRIPTION OF BANKS.	Number of Banks.	Number of Depositors.	Interest earned.	Bank Balances.	Nominal value of Government Promissory Notes.

4. The net result of the year's operations will be observed from the subjoined statement:—

The chief increase is in the Post Office Savings Banks, and is partly due to transfers from the Presidency and District Banks. The decrease in the Railway Banks is caused by amalgamation of the Cawnpur-Achneyra with the Rajputana Bank and the Dacca and Northern Bengal with the Eastern Bengal Bank; but on the other hand a New Bank under the designation of Bilaspur-Etawah has been opened in January 1887. According to statement IV there has been a decline in the Bombay Military Banks, while those in Bengal and Madras have increased their deposits.

5. The investments by depositors in Government Promissory Notes continue to rise, while the increase in deposits as received in the Post Office Banks is spread through every Province of India.

6. I have checked these Savings Banks Accounts with those of the Provincial Accountants General, the Accountant General, Public Works Department, and the Examiners of Accounts of the several State Railways, and have settled all differences with the exception of the amounts connected with the Chittagong Bank in which frauds were committed two years ago, as explained in my report of last year. These differences have not yet been adjusted, as the claims upon the Bank are not fully established.

RESOLUTION—By the Government of India, Department of Finance and Commerce.

READ the undermentioned letters transmitting reports on the working of the Mints and the Assay Offices of Calcutta and Bombay for the year 1886-87:—

From Lieutenant-Colonel R. V. Riddell, R.E., Mint Master, Calcutta, No. 1133, dated the 13th September 1887.

From Major-General J. H. White, R.E., Mint Master, Bombay, No. 1133, dated the 23rd September 1887.

From Surgeon-Major J. Scully, Assay Master, Calcutta, Nos. 59 and 68, dated the 20th August and 13th October 1887, respectively.

From Major G. Martin, F.R.G.S., F.C.S., Assay Master, Bombay, No. 52, dated the 25th June 1887.

I.—REPORTS ON THE WORKING OF THE MINTS.

Imports and coinage : Gold.—The net imports of gold into India in 1886-87 amounted in value to ₹2,17,70,652 against ₹2,76,29,347 in 1885-86. No gold was coined in either Mint. In Calcutta, gold of the value of ₹92,686, consisting almost entirely of bazar bar gold, was tendered for coinage, the tenderers being paid in gold mohurs from the reserve stock in the Bank of Bengal. A quantity of low touch gold, valued at ₹91,980, obtained from the melting down of plate, foil, &c., was also received in the Calcutta Mint from the Prize Committee at Mandalay; but, not being fit for coinage, was sold on behalf of the Committee.

In the Bombay Mint the stock of gold at the beginning of 1886-87 represented a value of only ₹4,602. It was increased to ₹4,632 by 10 gold coins received from the Royal Asiatic Society. No gold was tendered for coinage by the public, and the only issues were in the form of medals for public departments and private individuals to the value of ₹1,399.

2. Imports and coinage : Silver.—The net imports of silver into India and the coinage in each year in both the Mints from 1872-73 were:—

	Net imports, Lakhs.	Coinage, Lakhs.
1872-73	72	398
1873-74	249	237
1874-75	464	490
1875-76	155	255
1876-77	720	627
1877-78	1,468	1,618
1878-79	397	721
1879-80	787	1,025
1880-81	389	425
1881-82	538	219
1882-83	748	651
1883-84	641	366
1884-85	725	579
1885-86	1,161	1,029
1886-87	716	462
TOTAL	9,230	9,102

Of the imports of the year, 625½ lakhs were into Bombay, of which only 320½ lakhs were tendered at the Mint. General White says that it is believed that the remainder was absorbed by the requirements of Native States. The coinage at both Mints during the year was much less than half that of the previous year.

3. Total coinage: Gold and Silver.—The value of the total coinage of gold and silver at each mint is shown below separately for the last five years:—

	CALCUTTA MINT.					BOMBAY MINT.
	1882-83.	1883-84.	1884-85.	1885-86.	1886-87.	1882-83.	1883-84.	1884-85.	1885-86.	1886-87.
Gold	1,74,945	1,29,645	2,25,855
Silver	1,42,99,076	1,27,46,606	1,23,71,096	3,46,97,321	1,07,45,718	5,07,85,494	2,38,87,405	4,55,71,252	6,81,58,350	3,54,19,642
TOTAL	1,44,74,021	1,27,46,606	1,25,00,711	3,49,23,176	1,07,45,718	5,07,85,494	2,38,87,405	4,55,71,252	6,81,58,350	3,54,19,642

4. Recoinage of old coin.—The amount of defaced and uncurrent coin remitted to the Calcutta Mint for recoinage was R11,37,424, being less than that of the previous year by R31,64,742. This included Burmese Peacock rupees of the nominal value of R2,70,386, shroff-marked coin valued at R3,37,352, and uncurrent coin of the value of R4,54,068 transferred from the Bombay Mint. In the Bombay Mint the amount of uncurrent coin received for recoinage was 3½ lakhs of rupees, including coin of native mintage to the value of a lakh. The loss on recoinage operations amounted to R13,125 in Calcutta and R3,081 in Bombay.

5. Silver tendered for coinage by or on behalf of the Currency Department.—In 1886-87, silver to the value of R1,59,82,723 was tendered through the Currency Department for coinage in the Calcutta Mint; in 1885-86, the value was R4,83,23,963.

In the Bombay Mint R3,46,18,702 was tendered for coinage through the Currency Department. Of this sum R51,31,296 was transferred to Calcutta to be coined there; this sum is part of the 150 lakhs mentioned above.

6. Copper coinage.—The coinage of copper amounted to R11,71,289 in 1886-87 against R8,13,610 in 1885-86, more than three-fourths being coined in Calcutta. Cent pieces of the value of R34,020 and R50,300 were coined in Calcutta for the Governments of Ceylon and the Straits Settlements respectively. Tangas were coined for the Portuguese Indian Government to the value of R1,07,631 in Calcutta and R2,370 in Bombay.

The coinage of copper in each mint for the last five years has been as follows:—

	CALCUTTA.	BOMBAY.
	Value in R	Value in R
1882-83	8,62,580	2,14,214
1883-84	11,54,245	2,19,389
1884-85	7,02,560	3,55,250
1885-86	8,13,610
1886-87	9,13,955	2,57,334

For the Calcutta Mint nearly 15,000 maunds of copper slabs were purchased locally at an average rate of R23¼ a maund, this rate being less than that of the previous year by R2¼ a maund. The Bombay Mint obtained its copper from England through the India Office, the cost averaging R22 per maund against R24¾ per maund in 1885-86, but the Mint Master says that the slabs recently sent out are of rather inferior quality.

7. The gain on the copper coinage in both Mints for the last five years is shown below:—

	R
1882-83	3,50,091
1883-84	5,60,227
1884-85	5,69,684
1885-86	1,11,053
1886-87	7,67,040

The coinage in 1885-86 was much smaller than in any of the other years mentioned. There was besides a loss on the mintage operations in Bombay which had the effect of reducing to some extent the amount of net gain during that year.

8. Operative losses in Mints.—The operative losses at Calcutta and Bombay during 1886-87 were R23,849 and R21,447 against R96,065 and R60,736 in the preceding year.

The loss in the melting and mechanical departments of each mint per lakh of rupees during 1886-87 and the four previous years was as follows :—

					MELTING DEPARTMENT.		MECHANICAL DEPARTMENT.
					Calcutta.	Bombay.	Calcutta. (approximate figures).	Bombay.
					R	R	R	R

9. Revenue and Expenditure.—Total revenue and expenditure in connection with each mint from 1882-83 to 1886-87 :—

67,34,143						93,75,642

The total revenue at both mints during the last five years is less than the total expenditure during that period by R26,41,499. This gives an average loss of R5,28,300 a year, entirely in Calcutta.

10. The expenditure on account of salaries and establishments in the two mints during 1886-87 was R5,18,632, being less than that of the previous year by R44,490 as shown below :—

	CALCUTTA.			BOMBAY.
	1885-86.	1886-87.	Increase + Decrease -	1885-86.	1886-87.	Increase + Decrease -
	R	R	R	R	R	R
Fixed Establishment	2,04,401	1,87,512	-16,889	2,15,853	2,17,238	+1,385
Extra Establishment	82,950	74,729	-8,221	59,918	39,153	-20,765
TOTAL	2,87,351	2,62,241	-25,110	2,75,771	2,56,391	-19,380

The diminished outlay in Calcutta in 1886-87 is due mainly to (1) the Mint Master having been on furlough in 1886; (2) the absence of the Head Engraver; and (3) the fact that while for ten months in 1885-86 a large extra establishment was required for the coinage of silver, as well as of copper, in 1886-87 a somewhat similar establishment was required for only five months of the year.

11. The expenditure on stores in Calcutta during 1886-87 was R65,780 against R86,792, and in Bombay R70,282 against R2,38,603, in the previous year. The reduced expenditure in Calcutta was due to the smaller quantity of silver coined. In Bombay, there was a large expenditure in 1885-86 for new lever presses and for fuel.

12. Pro forma charges.—In the Calcutta Mint these charges amount in 1886-87 to R4,33,068 against R5,37,874 in 1885-86, shewing a decrease of R1,04,806 as follows:—

	1885-86.	1886-87.	Increase + Decrease -
Cost of pension and furlough allowances	29,366	30,446	+1,080
Interest on Stock and Block	5,08,508	4,02,622	-1,05,886

The cost of pension and furlough allowances of superior servants has in 1886-87 been rightly calculated at one-sixth of the salary, instead of one-seventh as was done in 1885-86. The decrease in the interest on stock and block is principally due to the smaller average silver balance as well as smaller balances of copper and stores in 1886-87.

13. Capital Account.—The capital account of the Calcutta Mint has been scarcely affected during the year 1886-87. The balance of the account at the commencement of the year stood at R76,35,773 and at the end at R76,36,686. The addition for original works was only R1,293, and it is expected by the Mint Master that for years to come there will be no material addition on this account.

In the Bombay Mint R18,325 was debited to capital account on account of buildings and plant. At the close of 1886-87 the balance of the account at debit to the mint was R35,68,217.

14. Alterations in the machinery and working of the mints.—The alterations and additions to the machinery in the Calcutta Mint, which were commenced four years ago to enable the mint to coin $3\frac{1}{2}$ lakhs of rupees daily in a day of seven working hours, were finished in the year.

In the Adjusting Department of the Bombay Mint, the Calcutta system of work was introduced by Major Baird as Officiating Mint Master with great success. The rejections of light and heavy bits have been much reduced, and though the average is not yet as good as in Calcutta, it is 5 per cent. better than it was.

II.—REPORTS ON THE WORKING OF THE ASSAY OFFICES.

15. Number of Assays made.—The total number of assays made during 1886-87 in Calcutta was 10,605 against 19,630 in the previous year, and in Bombay 19,937 against 32,319. The decrease was due to the smaller quantity of silver received for coinage.

16. Assays of silver bullion allignted to standard in the Calcutta Mint.—The average fineness of the mixtures of silver and alloy for the purpose of coinage in the Calcutta Mint was 916.034 against 916.14 in the previous year.

17. "Parting" assay of silver coins.—The average proportion of gold found in silver coins at the Calcutta Mint during 1886-87 amounted to .283 per mille against .227 in the previous year. The maximum and the minimum found in March and February 1887 were .561 and .051 respectively.

The average of the Bombay Mint was .290 per mille, the maximum being .636 found in May 1886 and the minimum .156 found in February 1887. The average of 1885-86 was .239 per mille.

18. Pyx trials of silver coins.—The procedure in regard to these trials was described in the Resolution on the working of the Mints in 1885-86, but it may conveniently be repeated here. It is as follows:—

From every lakh of rupees coined, a certain number of pieces are taken at random. Of these, some coins are assayed singly and the remainder are melted and assayed together. The combined results of these two kinds of assay give the average fineness for the lakh. To test the weight of the rupees, sample pieces are taken at random from every lakh struck and weighed on an assay balance, coin by coin.

The difficulties in the way of securing an accurate standard of fineness and weight are thus described by Dr. Scully in paragraph 19 of his report:—

“In the present stage of the art of minting it is quite impossible to avoid these variations in the weight and fineness of individual silver coins. It will readily be understood that when coins have to be manufactured at the rate of three or four lakhs a day, it must be impracticable to make them all of exactly the same weight. A most minute difference in the thickness of different parts of a strap from which the coins have to be cut out will occasion serious differences in the weights of the individual pieces.

“The variation in fineness which has been pointed out results from an inherent property of some silver-copper alloys. When these two metals are mixed together by melting and thorough stirring, the fluid mass of metal will be of even composition throughout. But in the act of solidifying, this uniformity of composition is spontaneously altered in all directions, so that the proportions of silver found in different parts of a single coinage bar will vary to a remarkable extent. For instance in a bar having an average composition of 916 per mille, the extreme outer edge may contain only 913 of silver, and the core or central part as much as 920. Lengthways too, one end of the bar will be richer in silver than the opposite extremity; and along any line in the bar in this direction variations will be found at every inch of surface. The coins resulting from such a bar must necessarily vary in fineness in the same way, though not quite to the same extent as the bar itself.”

The average results of the pyx trials of the silver coins in the Calcutta Mint are summarised in the following statement:—

DENOMINATION.	Number of coins weighed.	Number of coins assayed.	Average weight (grains).	Average fineness (per mille).	Proportion of gold in pyx coins per mille.
Rupees	690	2,070	179.959	916.754	0.283
$\frac{1}{2}$ rupees	350	1,750	90.008	916.573
$\frac{1}{4}$ rupees	670	6,700	45.014	916.629
$\frac{1}{8}$ rupees	650	13,000	22.506	916.581

In the case of the Bombay Mint the Assay Master has given the result of the trial of the pyx for weight.

There were 367 pyx trials in all. Among the coins tested for weight only 12 were found beyond remedy, of which 8 were above and 4 below the standard. Two lakhs had to be re-adjusted for weight in consequence of two coins being found beyond remedy, in one case the coins being too heavy and in the other too light.

The Assay Master has only given a rough calculation of the fineness of the coin issued. The Mint Master, Bombay, has calculated the assay value upon the actual weight and fineness of the silver coins put into circulation during the year.

The details are given below:—

	Weight.	Fineness.	Value.	Average Weight.
Rupees	3,40,46,650.9	918.431	3,40,37,914.9	180.00
$\frac{1}{2}$ rupees	5,57,965	916.132	5,57,639.8	90.00
$\frac{1}{4}$ rupees	4,20,507.5	915.867	4,20,140.5	44.96
$\frac{1}{8}$ rupees	3,94,061	916.017	3,93,781.6	22.48
	3,54,19,184.4		3,54,09,476.8

showing a gain of R10,166 on the issue of new coin. The number of coins used to determine the average fineness was R4,53,699.

The weight and fineness of individual coins vary much, though they are always well within the remedy allowed by law. In Calcutta last year the heaviest rupee was found to weigh 180.80 grains, the lightest 179.20; the greatest fineness of a single rupee was 918.6 per mille, the least 915.2.

The comparative results of the pyx trials of 1886-87 of both Mints are shown below :—

	AVERAGE WEIGHT IN GRAINS.		AVERAGE FINENESS PER MILLE.
	Calcutta.	Bombay.	Calcutta.	Bombay.
Rupees	179·959	180·000	916·754	916·431
$\frac{1}{2}$ rupees	90·008	90·000	916·573	916·132
$\frac{1}{4}$ rupees	45·014	44·960	916·629	915·867
$\frac{1}{8}$ rupees	22·506	22·480	916·581	916·017

In both cases the coinage is proved to be of entirely satisfactory standard.

19. Brittle silver.—During the year neither of the mints was troubled with consignments of silver containing bismuth. In the Calcutta Mint some silver was found to contain tin, and though this metal formed only about a thousandth part of the mass of bullion, yet this minute proportion was sufficient to cause brittleness.

Dr. Scully has published a useful and interesting paper containing the results of his investigations into the effects produced on the ductility of silver by the presence of bismuth. He summarises the results as follows :—

- “(1) The Indian assay process for silver bullion is, incidentally, a delicate qualitative test for the presence of bismuth in such bullion.
- (2) The assay process can be readily modified so as to give accurate results in the presence of such proportions of bismuth as are likely to be encountered in practice.
- (3) Fine silver when alloyed with only 1 per mille of bismuth has its ductility sensibly impaired thereby; and 1 per cent. of bismuth is sufficient to render fine silver, or alloys of it with copper down to 906 fine, extremely brittle.
- (4) Fine silver alloyed with small quantities of bismuth, and silver-copper alloys down to 980 fine when containing small proportions of bismuth, have the remarkable property of being more ductile when rapidly cooled in water after casting than if allowed to cool very slowly, thus resembling bronze in this respect.
- (5) Coinage bars such as are used in the Calcutta Mint, and with the procedure there adopted for rolling, are quite unfit for coinage owing to brittleness, if they contain only 3 per mille of bismuth; while if the latter metal forms less than 0·5 per mille of the whole mass, the ductility of the bars is not much affected.”

21. Improvements in the Assay Offices.—Among other improvements in the Calcutta Assay Office during the year was the introduction of the electrolytic process for the assay of copper. After a thorough trial, this process has been adopted to the exclusion of the more tedious process hitherto followed. Another improvement of some importance is the record of the weight of every pyx coin examined to one-hundredth of a grain, instead of only one-tenth of a grain as heretofore.

In the Bombay Assay Office the assay on pyx coins is now conducted in a shorter time than before. The pyx coins, instead of being received in the Assay Department at the end of the day's work, are now received for each lakh directly after the coin is struck and rung, are taken up for assay on receipt, and are reported on if received before 2-30 P.M. the next day.

Administration of the Mints and Assay Departments.—The Governor General in Council acknowledges the efficiency with which both Mints and Assay Departments have been controlled and worked by the officers in charge.

ORDER.—Ordered, that this Resolution be published in the Gazette of India.

Ordered also, that copies of this Resolution be forwarded to the Mint Masters, Calcutta and Bombay (with printed copies of the two reports on the working of the Mints), and to the Assay Masters, Calcutta and Bombay (with printed copies of the two reports on the working of the Assay Departments).

CIVIL LEAVE CODE.

APPENDIX A.

Substitute the following for clause (13) of the Form of Last-Pay Certificate on this page :

- (13) The Secretary of State recovers subscriptions on account of the different Civil Funds from subscribers absent from India on leave who draw their leave allowances in England, who either are required by the Rules of their Fund to pay their subscriptions in that country during leave, or elect to do so. Particulars of the Fund deductions to be made from the absentee allowances of officers on leave drawing their leave allowances in England should be noted on the Last-Pay Certificates; and where a subscriber elects to make payments of his subscriptions in India while on leave, or to postpone such payments until his return to India, the fact should also be noted on the Last-Pay Certificate. The rules under which the deductions are made, and the method by which they are calculated in the cases of the different Funds, will be found in Appendix B (a) of the Civil Leave Code.

Insert the following as Appendix B (a) of the Civil Leave Code :

The recovery of subscriptions due on the absentee allowances of subscribers to the Bengal, Madras, and Bombay Civil Funds, and to the Indian Civil Service Family Pension Fund, is made under the following Rules :

1. If the officer is on leave out of India and draws his allowances in England, recovery will be made at the Home Treasury by deductions from his absentee allowances, unless he is a member of the Bengal or Madras Civil Fund, and has exercised the option allowed to members of those Funds of postponing the payment of his subscriptions until after return to duty.

[NOTE.—The option allowed to subscribers to the Bengal Fund of postponing payment of subscriptions on absentee allowances is limited to a period of one year.]

2. For payment of leave allowances in any of Her Majesty's Colonies, warrants will be issued only on condition that the subscriptions shall be either paid in advance or taken by deduction; in the latter case, the warrant to the Colony should show only the net allowance payable after such deduction.

3. The rates of subscription are as follow:

A.—Bengal Civil Fund.

		R s.
Civil Fund ordinary		2	8	per centum of the total leave allowance.
Additional.	Wife	2	0	„	ditto ditto.
	Sons, each	0	2	„	ditto ditto.
	Daughters, each	0	4	„	ditto ditto.

Widowers' subscriptions are the subscription to the ordinary branch and double rates for children. The subscriptions should be calculated on the rupee entry of the absentee allowance in the officer's Last-Pay Certificate; but in no case is subscription calculated on a smaller leave allowance than R416-10-8, or on a higher allowance than R833-5-4 a month. Payments made in England are converted into sterling at the rate of 2 shillings the rupee. If the officer is entitled to no absentee allowance, his contributions should be calculated as if he were in receipt of the subsistence allowance noted below:

R250 a month—for an officer of not more than eight years' actual residence in India.

R320 a month—for an officer of more than eight but less than twelve years' actual residence in India.

R400 a month—for an officer of twelve or more years' actual residence in India.

B.—Madras Civil Fund.

R

During the first sixteen years' service in all cases 2½ per cent.

At the same rate during the whole further service in the case of married men or widowers with families. In the case of unmarried subscribers and widowers without families, the rate is reduced to 1 per cent. after sixteen years' service, to be raised to the higher rate of 2½ per cent. on the remarriage of the subscriber.

The subscriptions to be paid on absentee allowance are reckoned on the rupee entry in the Last-Pay Certificate ; but in no case is subscription calculated on a smaller leave allowance than R416-10-8, or on a higher leave allowance than R833½.

In the cases of subscribers in England who are not in receipt of any absentee allowances, and who are allowed by the Rules of the Fund to make payments in order to retain their interest in the Fund, the allowance on which the rates are calculated is the allowance from Government last drawn when on furlough or sick leave.

Payments made in England are converted into sterling at the rate of two shillings or one shilling and nine pence the rupee, according as the subscription is paid to the 8 per cent. or 4 per cent. Capital of the Fund.

C.—Bombay Civil Fund.

	R
Married members	3 per cent.
Widowers or unmarried members	2 "
For daughters (if upon the Fund)—2 annas or 4 annas per cent.
For sons (if upon the Fund)—2 annas per cent.

A member on furlough and in receipt of an absentee allowance exceeding £500 a year contributes at the rates shown above on the amount in excess of £500 a year. Any member drawing no allowance, or drawing furlough or subsistence allowance of £500 a year or less, is not required to contribute.

Payments of subscriptions in England are converted into sterling money at the rate of exchange annually fixed for the adjustment of financial transactions between the Imperial and Indian Governments.

D.—Indian Civil Service Family Pension Regulations.

(These rates shew the monthly contribution and are subject to alteration, from time to time, by the Secretary of State.)

Draft of Proposed Amendment.

1. To Rule 7, Schedule (page 88), after the existing Rule under the heading "Blocks" add the following:

"In front of each block and at a distance of about 2 feet from it a substantial wooden frame of stanchions and connecting pieces shall be erected, extending along the entire length of the block and to about 2 feet beyond it on each side. This frame shall be sufficiently high to support an extension of the closet roof, which shall be projected in future to a distance of about 2 feet, and shall rest on and be securely fastened to the top of the frame.

"A canvas screen, oiled or tarred, and capable of being securely fastened in its place when let down and rolled up when not required, shall be fitted to the front of the above frame, and shall hang from under the projected roof above to about 18 inches of the deck, so as to form, when let down, a sheltered passage to the closets that are behind and entirely covered by it. The exposed forward and after ends or side entrances of this passage shall be excluded from view by wooden side-screens—one at each end—firmly fixed at right angles to the frame in front, so as to leave, at each end, a covered entrance to the passage. With a view to better control, the forward end entrances to the women's closets may be closed, or be capable of being closed, when desired."

NOTE.—The relative positions of a block of water-closets, and of the front and side screens common to the block, may be roughly indicated thus:
